GENE DESTROYS FRENCHTOAST

FRENCHTOASTPLEASE CAUGHT RAGE QUITTING!

By BEANS MACLEOD

THE WORLD WAS STUNNED WHEN "Gene the Supreme" annihilated Jackbox host Frenchtoastplease at 'Mad Verse City' on Friday, April 30.

The streamer was noticeably devastated, and upon his defeat, proclaimed that they would not be playing any more games and would be ending the stream. Some viewers have claimed that this is evidence of a "rage quit", something which I have continually and unfairly been accused of, though the streamer claimed it was due to tiredness.

Large sections of Frenchtoastplease's fans protested on the internet, demanding he resign from his current positions as "Curator of Chaos" and "King of the Indies". One disgruntled viewer said "he lost to Gene, a computer controlled character who just generates nonsense. He has brought shame on his fans and he has offended the Shaolin temple."

While initially disliked, Gene's popularity has grown, something which this journalist says is deserved. Gene is the underrated star of the Jackbox series. Often drafted upon at short notice, he is happy to play hundreds of games at once where there is an odd-number of players.

HUMBLED: Gene stole Frenchtoast's dignity yet stole everyone else's hearts

He provided the lucky viewers of the highly-competitive game with three thespian classics, with such princely poetry like "sweat is pouring from your eyelids / it could fill the aquarium where I keep my squids" and even referred to the frequent allegations of the host rigging his games by saying "you say you kill verses but you just commit voter fraud / the key to a green yard is using good sod".

Commentator Gorilla Monsoon said it was the greatest trio of masterpieces since Bret Hart's trilogy of matches to win the 1993 King of the Ring.

Prior to his victory over Frenchtoastplease, he defeated newcomer GoldRhapsody and drew with his tag team partner, though I beat him with the deciding vote.

While many would say he is merely a soulless computer program, he entertained us with his nerdy-looking exterior and robotic-sounding rhymes that made little sense nor had any relevance. So in truth, doesn't that make him more human than us all? Either way, Frenchtoastplease once again finds himself having to boot up the apology garden, and this time, he'll be hoping it's the last.

HELLO 3DO, GOODBYE SUPER NINTENDO

FAREWELL, SWEET PRINCE. Exclusive news, as big changes are happening on Misto23's stream. Say hello to the 3DO, wave goodbye to the Super Nintendo.

What is the 3DO, you may ask? It's only the console that the Sega Saturn wished it could have been. With classics such as Iron Angel of the Apocalypse, Daedalus Encounter starring 90s babe Tia Carrere and Phoenix 3, which was so good, the first two were completely erased from history, we're in for an absolute treat. Or a car crash. Or both, if you're in to that sort of thing.

A small section of diehard fans are campaigning for the streamer to temporarily change his channel name to "Misto2-3DO" to commemorate the change.

So what is happening to the SNES?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CAN I SPEAK TO THE MANAGER?

DEAR EDITOR:

Bring back space pinball.

Frenchie, The Balkans

Are you not enjoying the four year old retro games?

DEAR EDITOR:

On episode 92 of Misto23, he was playing Prince of Persia and something really weird happened. At 01:41:12, it showed "13 minutes left" on the screen. But when he completed the next level, and I clocked it at fourteen minutes and three seconds, the game then showed "48 minutes left". Is this some continuity error?

Melvin, U.S.A.

That's no continuity error, kid. He was a dirty cheater using dirty cheat codes.

DEAR EDITOR:

On a recent stream of yours, you said that the Loch Ness Monster doesn't exist. But one summer when I was small, I went up there and I definitely saw a big monster swimming in the water, and when I waved at him, he smiled and waved back to me.

Morag, Kenmore

That wasn't Nessie. That was the Loch Lomand monster on vacation. Lovely guy, though.

DEAR EDITOR:

Davie232 is the best C&C player ever... and he likes Pot Noodles.

David, Scotland

Hold on to that pipe dream, kid. Never let anyone take it away from you. No one is better at being you than you. As long as you're having fun, who cares if you're not as good as me at Command & Conquer.

DEAR EDITOR:

There's a lack of point redemptions in Beanslup's channel. I have too many points and nothing to use them on. How am I supposed to show how wealthy I am?

Misto, U.S.A.

I've thought long and hard about your letter and you're right. The existence of points creates an unfair class system where wealth is not distributed among the viewers properly. No one should be forced to "earn" points to redeem to enjoy the full features of the stream. Thank you for bringing this to my attention. In future, all point redemptions will be removed.

LOCAL MAN SLANDERS FAN FAVOURITE

Liamthebemused, who is no stranger to controversy, has once again suffered the wrath of the internet with his recent rating of a popular 'waifu'.

Fan favourite 'Time Gal', the hapless hero of the cult classic of the same name, has saw circulation in multiple streams over the past week.

With her eye-catching outfit and cheery demeanour even in the face of danger, she was ultimately ranked as one of the worst fictional characters he has rated so far.

Many in attendance could not believe what they were hearing, with point deductions ranging from "she has these weird things on her arm, minus a point" to "her ass is on show" and even ludicrous statements such as "she's got a gun and never uses it". When fellow streamer Frenchtoastplease said Time Gal used her gun plenty of times when he played it, Liam had the audacity to blame him for streaming when he is in bed, so the point reduction remained.

If Liam didn't have a PR department, then he ought to think about getting one as yet again, insults and trash were hurled at a dozen computer screens.

Liam's inconsistent rating system no doubt leaves us all on the edge of our seats for the wrong reasons, and it's about time it all changes. What we need is someone who knows what they're doing. Who upholds the integrity of the waifu watch and ensure that justice is served for these lovely ladies.

I'll see you all Wednesday.

CULT CUTIE TIME GAL

LUCHADOR INVESTIGATES IDENTITY THEFT CRISIS

A rampant case of identity fraud and disregard of safety protocols has resulted in a number of deaths and dismemberments at a laboratory on an island in the middle of nowhere.

Masked luchador LLYuleMage is on the case, and was said to be "appalled" by the lackadaisical approach to how the facility was run, including confidential files being left out in the open and the convoluted key system to unlock doors throughout the facility.

The disaster happened during the ill-judged "bring your own dinosaur to work day". Research assistant Mark Doyle said that Dr Edward Kirk failed to properly fill in the required risk assessments.

The board at Umbrella Pharmaceuticals have passed a vote of no confidence regarding Dr Kirk, saying "this would never have happened if he just stuck to making zombies and tyrants like he was supposed to."

It's been banished to the dusty shelf alongside the rogue's gallery of consoles and contraptions long forgotten in the before times. No, I am not talking about the deadly COVID. I am in fact talking about Y2K. It really happened, people! Don't you notice that time seems to have really sped up in the last twenty years?

They say as you get older, time goes by faster, but that is far from the truth! The facts are that the notorious Y2K happened and has destroyed the very fabric of time and space as we know it.

Days are no longer twenty-four hours long, but the shady men that are pulling the strings behind the scenes have made you think they are.

They're all in on it! Computer companies, watch makers, even those alarm clocks you picked up out of a catalogue shop for a couple of bucks. They're all programmed to measure the "new" time rather than the old.

Wake up from your delusional slumber, check around those attics and dig around a car boot sale like Misto at a retro computer shop. If you can find an old watch that's still working, hold it up to your new one, and then... you'll be one step closer to the truth!

Good luck, comrades! And as always, if a shady man in black that looks like Alex Trebek knocks on your door and asks you who told you this, remember and tell them it was Liam.

MESSAGE FROM THE EDITOR

Thank you for reading! Do you have a story you want to see? Been a part of a stream that needs wrote about? Or just caught up in a damn conspiracy that you can't seem to shake? Hook me up with a message, comrades.

Stay informed.

Stay alive.

And be a thorn in their side!
